

Changing How the FX Market Connects

ParFX joins FXecosystem global FX Meet-Me-Room™

London, 12 December 2013 - FXecosystem Inc, a leading connectivity provider to the FX market, announced today that new spot FX platform ParFX has joined its global Meet-Me-Room (FX MMR™).

ParFX is a new, wholesale electronic trading platform designed to bring renewed transparency and equality to global spot FX. The platform's unique matching mechanism applies a randomised pause to all order submissions, cancellations and confirmation, firming liquidity by creating a genuinely level playing field.

James Banister, CEO FXecosystem, commented: "We are pleased to welcome ParFX to our global FX MMR™, which will allow easy access for our existing and growing client base of users to participate in this innovative new offering. ParFX will gain seamless connectivity with its banks and trading partners in LD5, London and NY4, New York, with Asia live in Q1, 2014."

Roger Rutherford, Chief Operating Officer, ParFX, said: "One of the key tenets of ParFX – and one of the original principles of our founding banks – is the idea of equal, cost-effective access to a fair and transparent FX market for all participants. FXecosystem's technical expertise and global reach, delivered efficiently and cost effectively, will help us to meet the FX market's demand for change.

"We have made excellent progress in on-boarding participants to the platform in recent months, and FXecosystem's FX MMR™ service will help us to continue to build liquidity and facilitate a new trading mentality in the FX market."
